Insurance Mandated Programs WILL Result in ...

1. Forcing the repairer to breach the trust of the customer by making unsafe repairs with inferior parts in order to maintain a high scorecard rating.
2. Creating tortious interference in the relationships of trusted vendors.
3. Creating profits for the insurance industry while providing no benefits to the consumer repairs, or vendors.
4. Increase the repairer's liability risks by using untested and potentially unsafe parts.
5. Violating the 1963 Consent Decree put in place by US Attorney General Robert Kennedy.
